

Skill Sheet: Medical Team Support

Objective

The squad provides medical support at a simulated incident. All members should don latex gloves, be able to provide C-spine support to victims, retrieve medical supplies, assist in packaging, and assist in rolling a victim onto a backboard under medical supervision. Trained team members should play medical roles as they would on a call.

Begin the scenario by arriving at an accident scene. An adult victim is laying on the ground and there is possibility of neck/spinal injuries
The squad will work as a team to "package" the victim onto a backboard.
The squad leader will announce that the scene has been checked and is safe to approach
All squad members don latex gloves
One person will continuously provide C-spine support to victim
Retrieve a backboard, straps and blocks from vehicle or staging area
Retrieve a C-collar for victim. Apply the C-collar to victim. Note: Which size collar will you use and why?
Properly roll victim onto backboard. The member providing C-spine support will direct the squad movements.
Strap victim onto backboard

Each team member will take turns, selected at random, identifying the following items, describing how and when they are used, and where they can be found on E1, E3 and B1
